

William Allen High School Class of 1983 25th Reunion

The Dow Jones hit a high of 1,027. You could buy a brand new VW Rabbit for $6,415 and gas it up for $1.24 a gallon. Men at Work topped the Billboard Charts, and Flashdance was a box office smash. The year was 1983 and you were a new graduate of William Allen High School.

Since then our lives have taken many different paths. While no two are the same, the root of these journeys is a common thread we will always share. We are the Allen High Class of '83 and that makes us friends. Take the time to come back and say hello. Great memories of our past will get the conversations rolling, and music from the '80s and talk of our lives today will have us partying through the night!
